TALK SERIES FOR SEMESTER II ON 3RD MARCH 2017

Prof. Ganesh Kattepur conducted a lecture on timber stair case and timber roofs for the students of sem II. In his own brilliant and humorous ways he explained the details of the construction and the joints between different units of the roofing system.

He artfully explained the difference between different types of roofs which none of the students present would ever forget.

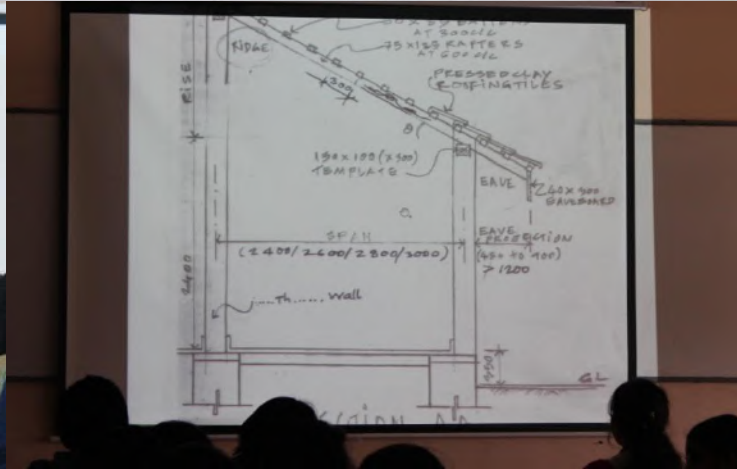

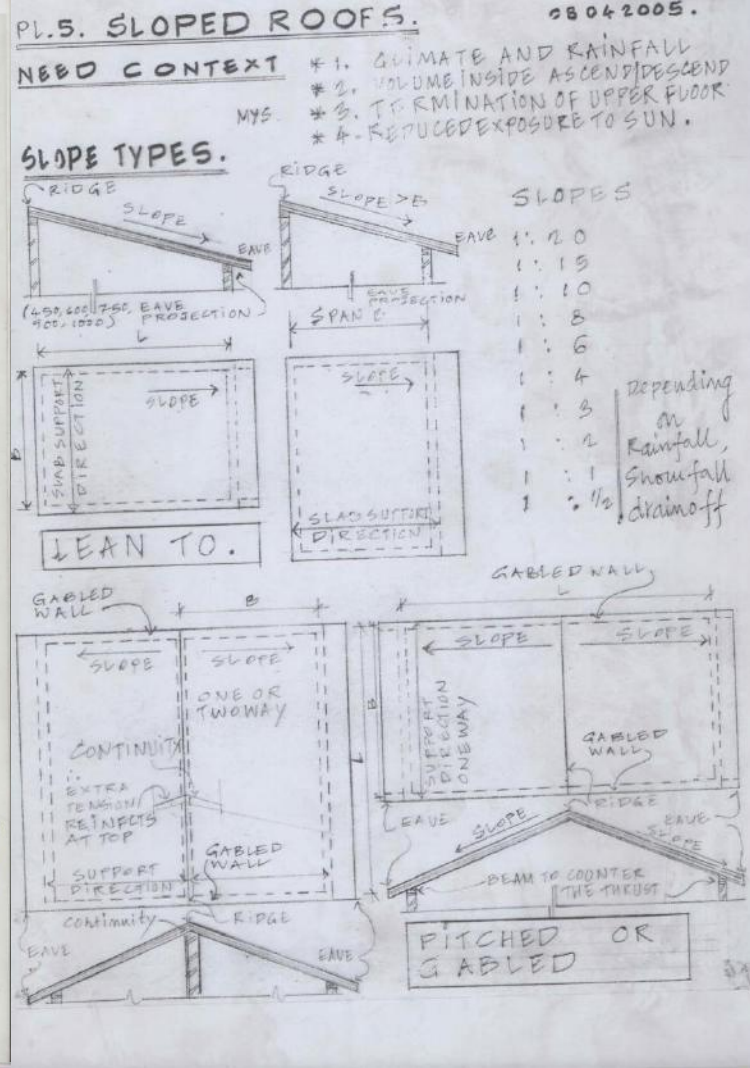

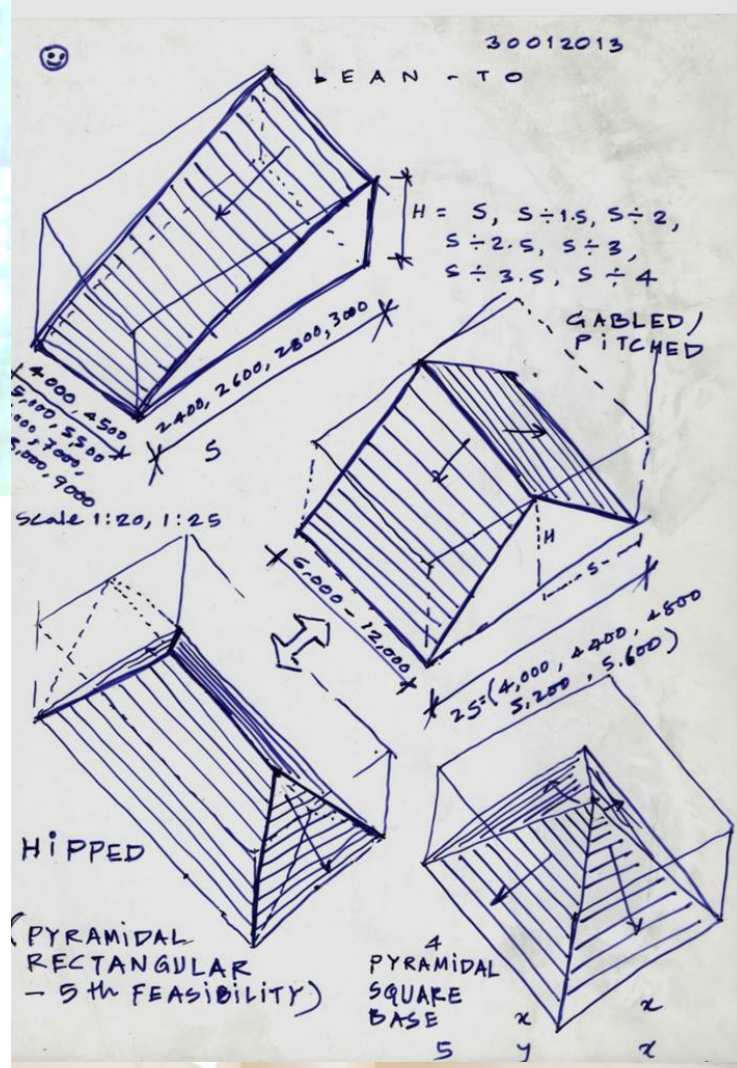

Being highly qualified in his field he maneuvered through the topics one by one explaining in simple and practical ways which enables the students to easily understand and absorb.

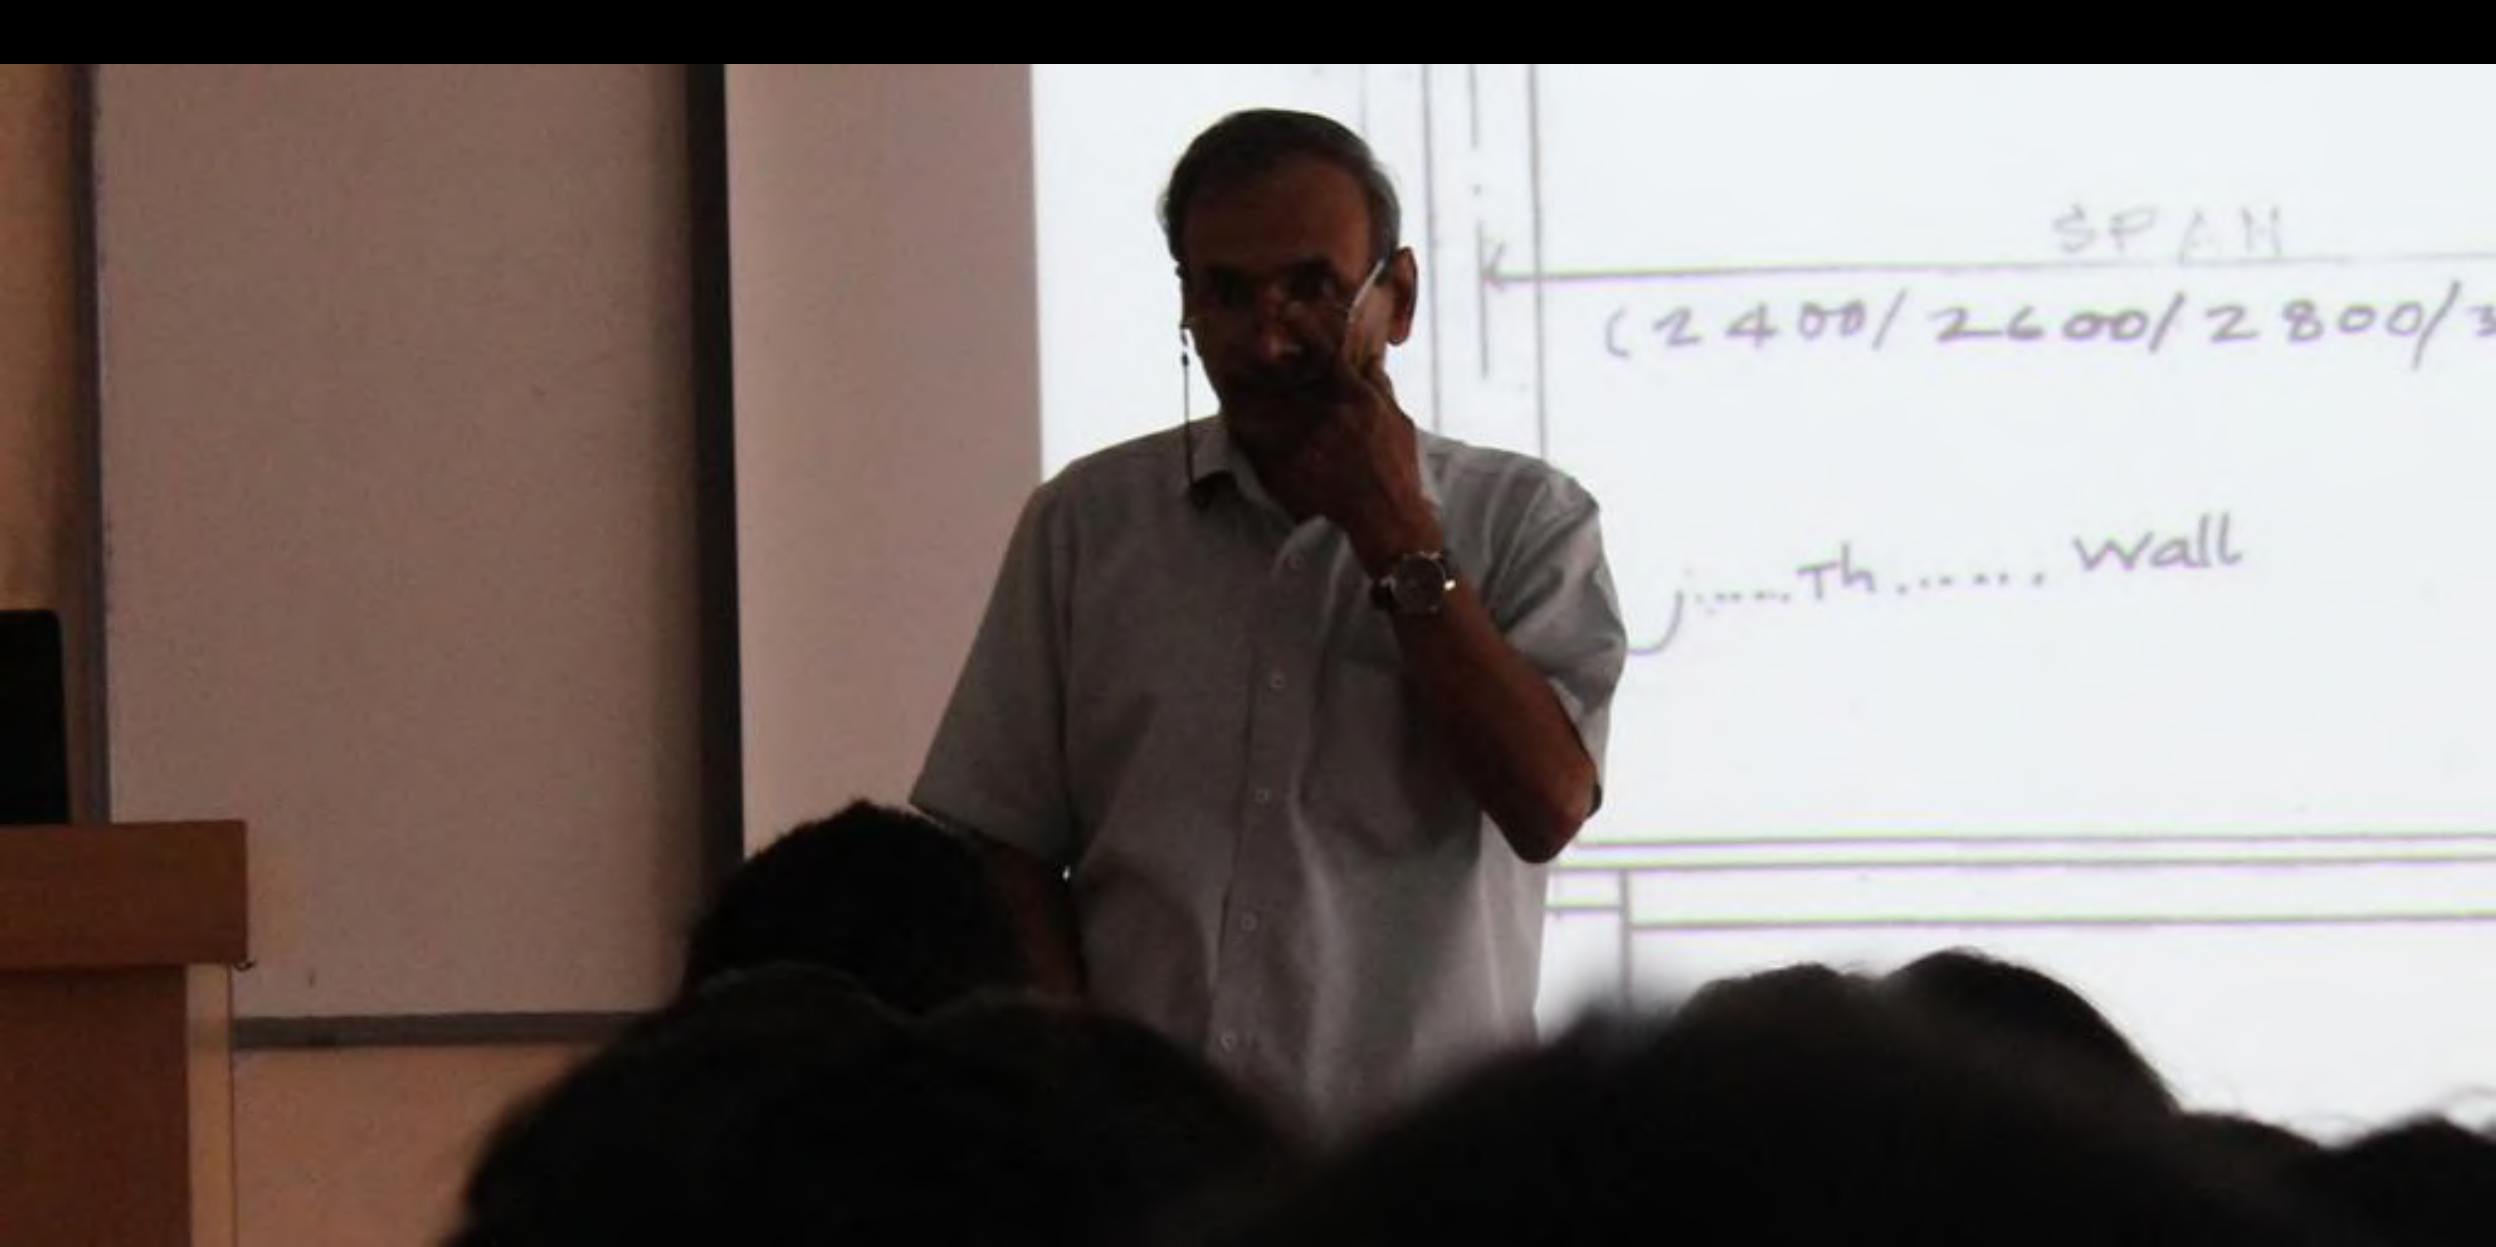

With experience evident in his speech, he gave tips about drafting and tips to learn all the details. He taught about the techniques used in such wood constructions and briefed us about the stairs.

In a short time of three hours he covered a vast portion including several topics without ever leaving a silent moment. It was fun and educational experience from which the student emerged happy and inquisitive.
